Why Taktok Brother Treks Chooses Not to List Trip Packages Online

At Taktok Brothers of Nepal, we frequently receive inquiries about why we don't list the prices for our trip packages on our website. This is because each individual's expedition or trekking requirements can vary greatly, and we prefer to offer a tailored and reasonable price through direct consultation. Below are some reasons why our prices may vary and why we exclude trip prices from our website.

Personalized Services

- 🏔️ Most of Taktok Brothers' trip packages are based on standard services, but we also offer customizable VVIP and luxury services according to client requirements, which can increase the overall cost.

Service Types

- 🏔️ We organize our expeditions either as Full Board Service or Basecamp Service, directly influencing the trip cost.

Personalized Services

Group Size and Accommodation

- 🏔️ The price of trips depends on the number of group members, the category of hotel accommodations, and the specific services requested in the mountains.

Itinerary Adjustments

- 🏔️ The trip schedule may need adjustments based on client needs, which can lead to changes in the number of days and, consequently, the price.

Additional Staff Requirements

- 🏔️ The need for extra climbing Sherpa guides, high-altitude workers, kitchen staff, and basecamp staff can add to the trip's cost.

Group Composition

- 🏔️ The size and composition of the group, including climbers, non-climbers, basecamp supporters, medical teams, and climbing guides, also affect the price.

Equipment and Supplies

- 🏔️ Requests for additional oxygen bottles or specific brands of mask regulators will increase the trip cost.

Seasonal Variations

- 🏔️ The climbing season significantly impacts the price. Trips in summer, autumn, or winter are generally less expensive than those in the spring season.

These factors can cause the price of the same trip to vary. After consulting with our clients, we provide a fair and tailored price. Please contact us for pricing details on the trip you are interested in.
